MANY MORE BILLS INTRODUCED IN HOUSE.

The Hewlett wage exemption bill was amended and passed by the house yesterday, every member present voture had been made a special order for 2:30 and the debate over it was participated in by practically every one of the solons. Amendments almost without number were offered, some members are solons. Amendments almost without number were offered, some members are solons. He suggest. ters proposing as many as three or four. After an hour's talk, though, the house got together and agreed on the following clause, this being the only change in the present law:

"Property exempt. One-half of the earnings of the judgment debtor for his personal services rendered at any time within thirty days next preceding the levy of the execution or levy of attachment or garnishment, when it aptachment or garnishment, when it appears by the debtor's affidavit that he is a married man or head of a family and that such earnings are necessary for the use of his family residing in this state, supported wholly or in part by his labor; Provided, that when the earnings are $2 a day or less, such mar-ried man or head of a family shall be ried man or head of a family shall be entitled to an exemption of $20 a month and, provided, further, that in no case shall the judgment debtor be taxed with the costs of any proceeding to obtain by levy of execution or otherwise, any part of the earnings of such judgment debtor, for personal services rendered within thirty days next preceding the levy of such execution."

Among those who made strong arguments in fayor of the amendment were D. H. Morris, Smith, Hewlett, Wells, Williams, Van Horne, Kelly, Axton and Williams, van Horne, Kelly, Axton and Stuart. Hamlin gave no reasons for his vote against the bill.

Cne other bill was passed by the house. This was Harmon's measure to provide for the payment of the contingent expenses of the state superintendent of public instruction menthly, intend of covertients and provided the state of th stead of quarterly, as at present.

Homer asked that house bill No. 2, by Van Horne, passed by the house some time ago, be recalled from the senate. The chair ruled the motion out of order on the ground that there was no irregularity in the passes of the order on the ground that there was no irregularity in the passage of the bill, which increases the salaries of the supreme judges from $3,000 to $5,000 per year. Homer appealed, but the house sustained the chair. Homer's purpose was to kill the bill, which he opposed from the start.

CAUCUS ON CONTEST.

Senator Bennion Refuses to Stand With the Democrats.

That party lines will be drawn in the Ellison-Barnes contest when the senate comes to consider the election committee's double-header report as the special order of business this afternoon was assured yesterday when the Democrats and Republicans held caucuses on the question. The ten Democratic members got together in the northwest committee room after adjournment yesterday, and with one exception, yesternay, and with one exception, agreed to support Senator Tanner's report as the minority report of the committee, declaring that the committee was not justified in going behind the returns, and declaring Barnes elected. The exception is Senator Bennion, who commit the property of the second to commit himself in favor of refused to commit himself in favor of deciding the contest without going into the ballot boxes. It was argued in the caucus that if the committee carried out the purpose expressed in the ma-jority report and undertook to go into an investigation, it would require a recount of every vote cast in the Third district and require more than a month, which might necessitate an extra ses-

The Republican senators also held a caucus in the mayor's office and decided unanimously to sustain the ma-jority report of the committee, requir-ing a thorough investigation at the ex-pense of the state. Therefore if Ben-nion votes with the Republicans there will be a tie.

There was a full attendance at both caucuses except for Senator Allison, but as he is the father of the Ellison petition, the Republican members were not worrying over him.

When it came to the introduction of bills nearly everybody took a hand. Johnson introduced senate bill No. 52, proposing an increase in the salaries of members of the state board of equalization from $400 to $1,000.

Senate bill No. 63, by Larsen, provides for the appointment of county stock inspectors, defining their duties and regulating the shipment of livestock. It authorizes the board of county commissioners of any county upon a written petition signed by fifty voters of the county to appoint a county stock inspector, who must be a resident and a practical stockman. It shall be his duty to inspect stock for shipment out of the county, and it is made unlawful for any person to ship or drive stock over county boundary lines where such inspectors are appointed, unloss a receipt to that effect is obtained from him. He must be notified three days before stock is to be moved.
